

February 2012 Science Café

Science and Religion: How can we peace it all together?

Friday,
February 17, 2012
7-8 p.m.

Free Admission
Arizona Science Center

600 E. Washington Street
Phoenix, AZ
602-716-2000

Science and religion have long been providing humanity with understanding and progress, yet many of the world's greatest debates stem from these two cultural forces. Do science and religion always have to be at odds? Join in on the conversation about whether the two can peacefully converge for our benefit.

John Lynch
Principal Lecturer
Barrett Honors College, and
School of Life Sciences
Arizona State University

Matthew Cooper
Faculty
Philosophy & Religious Studies
South Mountain Community College

Science Cafes are free, informal discussions that bring together members of the community and university scientists to discuss how science and technology can change the future.

In the typical cafe, each scientist speaks for 5-15 minutes on a topic, with the rest of the time for the public to ask questions and present concerns.

Teachers receive 1 hour professional development for each cafe attended.